

We use a cascading of two CNNs for the lobe segmentation where we also proposed a novel neural network module to capture contextual dependencies. More information, please read our paper on <https://arxiv.org/abs/2004.07443>.