

The method we currently use is based on the end-to-end 3D CNN structure of the attention mechanism. To overcome overfitting, we utilize data augmentation to augment the training data. The augmentation operations include rotation, shear, zoom and flip. At last did some post processing automatically. We trained more epochs. Experiments are carried out on a Nvidia GTX1080ti GPU with 11GB memory.